Troops Repel Cong Attacks

Inflict Heavy Damages On Reds In Hard Fight

SAIGON (AP) — Reinforced U.S. infantrymen repelled two strong Viet Cong attacks today and inflicted heavy losses on the Communists in hard fighting in jungle and rice paddy terrain near the Cambodian border, an American military spokesman said.

The fighting continued into the night as the American troops sought to flush the Communists from a chain of heavily fortified bunkers 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

LBJ Calls Nixon On Criticism

Says Former V.P. Is Just 'Chronic Campaigner' Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson criticized Richard M. Nixon's comments on the Viet Nam issue today, and called the Republican former Vice President a "chronic campaigner."

And on another aspect of the issue, he cautioned Communists abroad, such as the Red China or North Viet Nam regimes, not to make "any mistake in judgment" in interpreting the results of next Tuesday's U.S. elections.

"I cannot conceive," he told a news conference, "that when the American people cast their votes, their decision will in any way change the government's policies" on Viet Nam.

A newsman brought up criticism voiced Thursday by Nixon, who expressed the view that the recent Manila conference of nations allied with the United States in Viet Nam would accomplish nothing toward achieving peace.

Nixon said the United States was "off base" with its offer to withdraw troops from South Viet Nam six months after North Viet Nam disengages from the conflict.

"The effect of this mutual withdrawal," Nixon said, "would be to leave the fate of South Viet Nam to the Viet Cong and the South Vietnamese Army."

Johnson first said he did not want to get into a foreign policy debate with a chronic campaigner like Mr. Nixon."

But he went on to criticize Nixon's knowledge of foreign affairs and said "now he's out talking about a conference he is not well informed about."

Johnson reiterated that the United States has no plans to dominate or occupy Viet Nam once violence there ceases. "We have explained we will pull out just as soon as the infiltration and violence ceases."

Democrats in a number of states from Massachusetts to California had announced plans to welcome Johnson at a series of weekend political rallies leading up to Tuesday's elections.

But the announcement Thursday that Johnson will undergo surgery forced them to scrap plans, bunting and speakers' platforms.

Johnson insisted that his plans to "spend a quiet weekend" at his ranch did not involve any cancellation because, as he considers it, there were no official plans to be canceled.

Traffic Accidents, Injuries In City Show An Increase

The number of traffic accidents month of October, 1966, has increased, compared to the same month last year, according to statistics released Thursday by the Sedalia Police Department. There were 74 accidents, with 31 injuries in October of this year, as compared with 67 accidents and nine injuries for last October. No fatalities were recorded this October, while one was counted in October, 1965.

Totals for the year to Nov. 1 show 649 accidents and 176 injuries, compared to 588 accidents and 205 injuries for the same period last year. Fatalities have been cut in half, however, with two recorded so far this year, compared to four last year.

WASHINGTON — Scene in the East Room of the White House today as President Johnson held a news conference before taking off for a two week rest in Texas. He described his forthcoming surgery as "a little stitching." Seated in front row, right is the First Lady. (UPI)

Military Honors Are Accorded War Veteran

CROSS TIMERS, Mo. (AP) — Full military honors were accorded James Chronister, 51, a paratroop veteran of World War II, at his funeral Thursday.

Before his death, Chronister's wife wrote to the commanding general of the 101st Airborne Division requesting the military funeral.

"My husband is dying of lung cancer," Mrs. Chronister wrote. "He was a proud member of your division and jumped with you at Normandy."

He was wounded and discharged with 30 per cent medical disability and despite his handicaps he has been able to raise four fine children...

"It may be a month or only a few days. But I know from what my husband has said, the 101st never let a man down. They will die trying, he has said, and I believe him."

In response to the letter, Maj. Gen. Ben Sternberg, commander of the 101st at Ft. Campbell, Ky., ordered all arrangements made.

Chronister, winner of the Bronze Star and two Purple Hearts, died Oct. 29. He had been ill since July. He was an employee of the Armco division of Scheffield Steel. The family lives in Kansas City, at 6321 N. E. 54th St.

Twenty men of the 101st and the unit's chaplain, Lt. Col. Franklin T. Gossler, were flown to Whiteman Air Force Base at Knob Noster, Mo., Thursday.

They acted as pallbearers and honor guards. The chaplain gave the funeral sermon at the Cross Timbers Christian Church and officiated at the burial in the church cemetery.

On-The-Job Projects Reach 3,293 In Mo.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Labor reported today the number of training positions under on-the-job training projects in Missouri has reached 3,293.

Of the 2,700 approved for schooling under the Federal Manpower Development and Training Act through June 30, the department said 500 had been enrolled and 300 had completed their training. Since June 30, 12 projects have been approved to provide training for 593 unemployed or underemployed Missouri workers.

A crippling snowstorm, which left a heavy blanket of white across broad areas in the eastern half of the nation, appeared tapering off today but cold weather persisted, even in the Deep South.

The first widespread major snowstorm of the season left as much as 15 inches of snow in parts of Kentucky and the snow fell southward as far as Birmingham, Ala.

Storm-related deaths, including five in a heavy rainstorm in New England, totaled at least 32 in six states. Most of the fatalities were in traffic accidents on snow-covered and icy highways but some deaths were caused by heart attacks while shoveling snow.

Snow squalls and high winds continued early today in the upper and eastern Great Lakes region. Heaviest snow was confined to a narrow belt along the southeastern shores of Lake Erie. In New York State up to seven inches of snow fell north of Buffalo.

High winds, with three inches of wet snow and thunder and lightning, hit areas in western New York State Thursday night. Power breakdowns were widespread.

Gale force winds, from 35 to 45 mph., continued to sweep across the Great Lakes region.

More snow fell in Michigan, but tapered off to mostly flurries during the early morning.

The two-day storm brought snow amounts of four to eight inches and drifts to three to four feet or higher, in Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio, Tennessee and nearby states. Lesser amounts fell in other parts of the Midwest.

The storm appeared heading into southeastern Canada but snow squalls were indicated during the day in the northern third of the nation from the Rockies to New England.

Rivers all over the central and upper half of the country swelled over banks under the onslaught of more than 36 hours of steady rain.

Violent weather in nearly all sections of the country increased the misery and chaos caused by the floods. Bad weather also afflicted other parts of Europe.

Three persons were killed in an avalanche in the Italian Alps. Hundreds were hurt in the flood-stricken areas and dozens were missing and feared dead.

FINDING THE WAY

The Embarrassing Friend

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There is a prayer, attributed to the skeptic Voltaire, which implores: "O God, protect me from my friends; I can take care of my enemies myself." That prayer can be said frequently. Embarrassments are created by many who think of themselves as friends.

The citizen who doesn't think of himself as a traitor can yet themselves as "good Christians." They are church officers; they are involved in the life of the parish and they consider themselves to be friends of the faith. In fact, they have betrayed the thousands upon thousands of men and women who have given themselves sacrificially to the many tough battles for human dignity.

Out of so many congregations across the country have come the forces for decency and honor. Such people, who have placed their careers on the line and have jeopardized so much of their careers, can join in praying: "O God, protect us from our friends; we can take care of our enemies ourselves."

The dubious friends who are charming, affable and who never raise a voice about anything are the contrast to these grim men who barred the door. They would never do such a thing. They would never do anything. The Lord must love the serious doubter more than such apathetic friends. The doubter refuses to take God for granted. The person who lives through such tortures of spirit knows that he's dealing with a real persons who defy it.

A few days ago newsreels across the country carried the pictures of congregational officers standing at the door of a church and denying entrance to an African student.

Converted to Christianity in his native village, the young man had been encouraged to further his education. He had received a fellowship, come to America and now a church barred him from entering to pray with its white members.

The men who barred the boy from worship probably think of betray the real meaning of citizenship. Parents who would be hurt and shocked to be considered unfaithful, may discover that their attitudes either of indifference or of overaffection smother growth and development in the home. Churchmen whose pieties endanger the reputation and life of the church are as dangerous as the heretics who defy it.

We all need friends and the causes of righteousness and justice need friends, but real friends, lest we have to pray again: "Lord, deliver me from my friends; I can take care of my enemies myself."

John Ciardi once wrote of the type of apathetic, security-minded persons of all too much of contemporary society: "They are so afraid of going broke that they are afraid of going for broke." Good people, they are and good neighbors but they are an embarrassment. Of such Jesus said, "Not everyone who says Lord, Lord, will enter the kingdom."

We all need friends and the causes of righteousness and justice need friends, but real friends, lest we have to pray again: "Lord, deliver me from my friends; I can take care of my enemies myself."

During his pastorate here the church was organized, although it had started as a group the organization took place after he came here. A new church was built in those four and a half years and a parsonage was purchased. The membership has greatly increased and the size of the Sunday School has doubled.

A special day honoring the Rev. Mr. Holland, his wife and children, 13, and Reva Ann, nine, has been planned by the congregation for Sunday.

Filling the pastorate here will be the Rev. Ron Wilson from the Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City.

2. An uncertain political trend in this one-time Republican state where the Democrats captured two Republican congressional seats in the Johnson landslide two years ago.

3. Polls that indicate that Halleck is leading — but not by much.

A long-time supporter of Halleck, former state Sen. Roy

Conrad of Monticello, said: "It's the worst fight he ever had, but he's safe. He'll win."

Gov. George Romney of Michigan spoke at a Logansport rally

last month in behalf of Halleck, the only Indiana Republican of national stature.

He became known as an adroit floor leader through his manipulation of a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats when he led the House minority.

But he became best known in the national eye as costar with Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of the "Ev and Charlie show" a series of joint television appearances before the 1964 election deplored the doings of the Democratic majorities in Congress.

This year Hallock's opponent is the strongest he's faced.

Before Congress adjourned, Hallock flew between Washington and Indiana for stumping, in contrast to other years when he spent most of his time campaigning for other candidates.

Since Congress adjourned he has been at it fulltime, trying to match McFadden's 16-hour-a-day schedule.

A special day honoring the Rev. Mr. Holland, his wife and children, 13, and Reva Ann, nine, has been planned by the congregation for Sunday.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from a woman who wrote about her sneaky husband prompts this, my first communication to a newspaper.

Several weeks ago my husband asked me if I would mind if a business associate from another city stayed in our home for a week "to save expenses."

I cannot describe my astonishment when I discovered that the "business associate" was a woman, and the only business they had together was money.

For five days she sat around our house in her filmy negligee, filing her fingernails, smoking cigarettes and reading trashy magazines. My husband took her to a "sales meeting" every night. They never got home before 3:00 a.m.

Finally I asked her what connection she had with my husband's firm and she told me she had no connection, but that she used their products once in a while. Then I asked what she was doing in town and she said she had always wanted to visit Cincinnati.

What do you think of this for gall?—ANONYMOUS PLEASE

Dear An. I think her gall is exceeded only by your stupidity. If it took you five days to ask a guest in your home what she was doing in town, you are pretty slow on the uptake, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who wants to know how much loyalty a person owes a friend?

My closest girl friend (I will fake the name and call her Inez) asked me to spend Friday and Saturday night with her because her parents were going to the Cape for the weekend. My parents have always liked Inez and agreed that it would be O.K.

THE SAFETY OF THE PUBLIC RECORDS

The title for every piece of real estate in the county depends upon the records in the recorder's office. Those records must be carefully preserved.

At no time has anyone been denied the right to inspect and copy or photograph the records in the recorder's office. But Mr. Marino requested the privilege of taking the books apart and removing pages therefrom to facilitate making photographic copies. That privilege was denied to him. If that privilege had been granted to Mr. Marino it would have been necessary to extend the same privilege to the other abstractors, the lawyers and everyone interested in making copies of the records. The safety of the public records would have been impaired.

Upon being denied this special privilege, Mr. Marino caused a suit to be brought in the Circuit Court against Reno Johnson, the recorder, to have Mr. Marino's rights determined, but after all the evidence had been heard by the court, Mr. Marino caused the case to be dismissed before any ruling was made by the court. As a result, Reno Johnson continues to operate the recorder's office on the basis that utmost care will be exercised to safeguard the records and that no special privilege will be granted to any person or any group.

For the safety of the public records and for the continued policy of equal courtesy to all but special privilege to none, re-elect Reno Johnson as Recorder of Deeds.

Eagleton On Educational Improvement

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton said today the recent governor's conference on education "may well signal the beginning of a new day for public education in Missouri."

Eagleton outlined the conference recommendations in a speech prepared for the 10th annual convention of the Missouri State Teachers Association.

"I am not so naive as to believe I am unhappy when I got home, and I told her Inez and I had an argument. Mom accused me of being 'hard to get along with' and suggested that I improve my disposition. If I had told Mom the truth Inez would have been in plenty of trouble. As it is I am the one who looks bad. How much loyalty do I owe her?" — VICTIMIZED

Dear Vic: This is not a matter of loyalty, it's a matter of integrity. A person of good character does not rat fink, and you proved that you are a person of character. So — an orchid to you, Doli, and a bouquet of skunk cabbage to Inez.

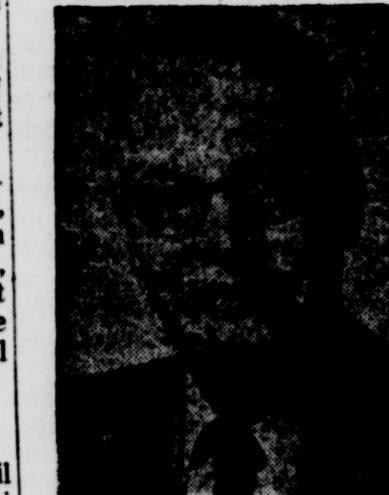

Confidential To Where Did I Fail: You made the all too common mistake of grabbing bargain counter pleasure when you should have waited for a meaningful relationship to develop. Most of man's unhappiness results from having made the wrong choice. And this was your undoing.

Confidential To A Friend Who Got No Thanks: I don't call it friendship when you lend money at 25 per cent interest. Obviously you would rather eat well than sleep well.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Plans Change For Lack Of President

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson taking himself off the campaign trail, Democrats in tight races from Massachusetts to California today had to scrap plans, bunting and speakers' platforms.

But they insisted they were not giving up hope.

Just what impact Johnson's absence from campaign halls, rallies and parades will have on the election Tuesday no one can say with certainty.

One unmeasurable factor was whether any sympathy for the chief executive — facing surgery after his mission to the Far East — would be reflected in votes for candidates of his Democratic party.

Another was whether any feeling of anxiety about the President's condition would be reflected in votes for Republicans.

Some political pros, like California's Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, doubt any outsider — even a President — can turn the tide of an election.

And some of the candidates who have been pictured, as on, or near, the ropes and urgently needing help from the Democratic champ say they will do all right on their own.

Brown, had expected Johnson to campaign for him in California Saturday and Sunday in his uphill re-election battle against Ronald Reagan.

"We are going to win the election whether he comes or not," declared Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan, who is in a tough match with GOP Gov. Mark O.

Brownfield, a painter-maintenance products representative for the concern, makes his headquarters at 512 South Ohio.

One recommendation was expansion of the school foundation program with the ultimate goal of 50 per cent state aid for the operating costs of elementary and secondary schools.

Other recommendations requiring state appropriations, Eagleton noted, included:

State aid for kindergarten pupils, a shared-time law so private and parochial students could attend special classes in public schools, greatly expanded support of vocational and special education, more state aid to junior colleges, more state aid for building comprehensive secondary schools with built in incentives for district reorganization.

Many other recommendations not involving direct financial aid were made, the lieutenant governor said, including reorganization of the State Department of Education, abolition of the two-thirds majority requirement for bond elections and provision for the tax rate to remain at its current level when a proposed tax increase is defeated.

Brown and House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said they had been notified Tuesday that Johnson would not be able to keep campaign dates in their states. McCormack said he learned it from a White House aide who telephoned from Seoul, Korea.

But in general the picture was one of shattered plans in some dozen states after the President's announcement Thursday he would sit out the remainder of the campaign to rest up for surgery in about 15 days.

The White House never made official announcement of Johnson's campaign plans. But the word had spread from Bangkok to Boston that he planned a

Not How Many, But Where?

There may be a shortage of doctors in America — and for numerous small towns without one at all there is no "maybe" about it—but the paradox is that the shortage is not so much one of numbers as of distribution.

There were 252,984 physicians in the United States in 1960, or one for every 737 persons. By the end of 1965, the medical population had risen to 293,088, or one for every 681 persons.

This trend is expected to continue, says the American Medical Association. It estimates that by 1975 the number of doctors will total at least 360,000. With a population forecast of 230 million, the doctor-people ratio will thus improve to one physician for every 638 persons.

By 1970, 13 new medical schools will be in operation, making a total of 101. Six others are probable and six more are possible by 1975.

Nevertheless, for a variety of reasons, many rural areas lack enough doctors. To help correct this imbalance between city and country, the AMA has a Physician's Placement Service which acts as a clearing house for information for doctors seeking a place to practice and for communities looking for a doctor. There are also state medical society placement bureaus and rural health committees tackling the same problem.

In addition, thanks to a Sears-Roebuck Foundation-AMA program that brings doctors and small towns together, 137 communities which otherwise might not have physicians now have them.

All this is a part of the answer. Another part, says the AMA, is men like Walter A. Mendyka, M.D., who left a well-established practice in Cleveland and moved his wife and 11 children to a rural town in Maine nearly 1,000 miles away.

"I felt I could be of more use and fill a need for both myself and the community," explains Mendyka. "It was a way I could get that nagging feeling off my mind."

Stubborn, Perhaps?

Americans have been bombarded the past year with a constant barrage of warnings against the perils of smoking cigarettes.

They responded by puffing their way through 534 billion—an all-time high.

Before and during the recent Fourth of July weekend motorists were beseeched to use a little extra care to offset the extra dangers of holiday traffic.

They obliged by piling up the biggest traffic death toll ever recorded for any summer holiday.

That we are hardy?

Some Deserve To Win, Others To Lose

By DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — This column, having watched members of Congress over the years, herewith lists some who deserve to win, some who deserve to lose next Tuesday.

Here are some candidates who deserve to lose:

Mike Kirwan, Democrat of Youngstown, Ohio. He bamboozled the House into putting up half a million dollars to plan a $3 billion canal between his home town on Lake Erie and Pittsburgh. The appropriation was passed without an authorization, which is illegal. Kirwan, however, holds the purse strings on money for Democratic congressmen's reelection, gets what he wants.

Rep. Mike Feighan, Democrat of Cleveland, who sees bogiemens under almost everyone's bed, called Mrs. Roosevelt a nigger-lover, and has one of the worst juking-absentee records in Congress. It almost equals that of Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem.

Ex-Rep. John Pillion, Republican of Buffalo, has the 100 per cent support of the Liberty Lobby, which said of him, October 25: "The liberal Rockefeller-controlled Republican machine tried to defeat Pillion in the June primary but was unsuccessful. We are looking forward to welcoming Mr. Pillion back to Washington." Pillion is one of the few Republican congressmen who refused to attend the memorial services for the late President Kennedy after his assassination.

Rep. Harold Cooley, North Carolina Democrat, who wrote the abortive sugar bill which favored his own lobbyist friends. The sugar bill was so bad it had to be completely revamped in the Senate.

Joe Pool, Democrat of Dallas. His rider banning food-for-peace to any country which had shipped supplies to communist countries meant juking highly effective food programs to many friendly countries. The Congress was tied up an extra week ironing out the pool rider.

Rep. Charles Gubser, California right-wing Republican who loves to junket abroad, the latest having been a trip to Paris with the House Armed Services Committee in 1965, a time when President DeGaulle was slapping the USA and when President Johnson had urged Americans not to travel abroad. The Pentagon supplied Gubser and his colleagues with a B-707, costing $1,000 an hour to fly and $2,000 a day while waiting on stopovers. Gubser also used his free franking privilege to mail out 30,000 newsletters excoriating Chief Justice Earl Warren, former Republican governor of California.

They Deserve Victory
Here are some congressmen who deserve to win:

Johnson Facing Two Painful Ordeals

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson faces two ordeals — physical and political — with one just as painful as the other.

If the doctors are right, he will have to endure the political one a lot longer.

After some surgery, according to the doctors who minimize its gravity, he should soon be back in good physical shape.

But, according to the polls and tradition, Johnson won't be in as good political condition for a while and then have a polyp removed from his throat and repairs made on an abdominal incision that was part of his gall bladder operation last year.

If it hadn't been for this he might have spent the time between now and next Tuesday's elections in a whirlwind speaking campaign to help his Democrats. Whether that would have done any good at this late date is debatable.

Yet, for a master politician like Johnson, this has been a very strange election season.

Johnson had made a few campaign speeches and trips but just as the season was reaching its peak, he went off to Manila for a conference about Viet Nam with the leaders of six other nations.

It would seem, if he had his heart set on doing his utmost for the various Democrats in trouble, he would have spent a minimum of time in Manila and then returned here to go on a speaking tour of the country. Instead, he took 17 days to go to Manila, Australia, New Zealand, and Asian countries, even though it's still not clear what good this did for American relations with those countries or for bringing Viet Nam peace nearer.

Johnson had great success with this expiring Congress in 1965, less success in 1966 even though the Democrats retain their huge majority in both houses.

Since he suffered troubles and frustrations when his Democrats far outnumbered the Republicans, he can expect even more when there are fewer

Creation Of Life By Man
Not On Par With God

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Biochemists are working today to try to produce life out of inert matter, a feat first ascribed to God.

If they manage to do it, as they predict they will, would that put human technique on a par with the divine?

Definitely no, at the crux of the operation, theologians say, but it would dramatize a point in the biblical revelation, i.e.: that men were meant to share in the creative work of the Almighty.

"Replenish the earth, and subdue it," came the mandate to man. "And have dominion over . . . every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

Rabbi Norman Lamm, visiting professor at Yeshiva University's Teachers Institute for Men, says that to be made in God's image "means, in the simplest terms, to be God-like," and that means to be creative.

He adds: "If man discovers the secrets whereby living matter is produced by inanimate stuff, he will not be challenging God, but quite the contrary, fulfilling in an unparalleled manner his function of imitating God in the assertion and exercise of his creative genius."

Actually, Dr. Holm points out, there is no sharp borderline "between life and nonlife." Throughout nature, he adds, "a no-man's land exists between the living and the nonliving — an area where neat classification schemes work badly or not at all."

For example, he notes, some chemicals such as viruses reproduce themselves but don't grow, while others such as crystals grow but can't reproduce themselves. Already chemicals have been combined to produce tobacco mosaic virus.

"Is this life?" he asks, adding that depends on how you define it.

"Life is not a thing. It is a process, more correctly a vast interlocking, self-regulating matrix of processes occurring in highly organized 'things' — chemicals. The 'creation of life' is the setting into motion of that process among an organization of molecules where before the process was nonexistent."

If scientists eventually accomplish this, it will mean simply that man has the capacity to set into motion the complicated living process outside the body, as well as inside it." But the source, he adds, will remain God.

Use Of Industrial Bonds Is Increasing Steadily

By JOHN CUNNIF

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Use of industrial development bonds is soaring, even though many investment bankers consider them unethical.

Industrial development bonds use the low-cost borrowing advantages of city government to finance private factories. They have been very successful in improving the living conditions in poor towns, particularly in the South.

Opponents, such as the Investment Bankers Association, say this use of public funds for a private purpose is a misuse, that it lessens a city's ability to borrow for new schools and sewers and water systems. Proponents say the argument is really sociological rather than financial. They question the statement that industrial aid bonds are a misuse. A town has the right to create jobs by financing a factory, they say.

The strength behind any defense of these bonds is a mixture of good business, politics, humanitarianism and profit.

Some of the bonds are backed by the entire credit rating of a town. That is, the town pledges to repay the money it borrows through its taxing power, even though it has no assurance the company it finances will succeed.

More often, the bonds are revenue bonds. In such a case the factory signs a contract to repay interest and principal from its revenues in an amount sufficient to retire the bonds. If it doesn't pay, it is evicted.

In 1960, only $7 million in municipal industrial development bonds were issued. By 1960 the total was $40 million. And in the first nine months this year the amount rose to $439 million. The backlog for the year is as large.

Some 32 states now have passed laws — "enabling legislation" — permitting the use of industrial aid bonds. Some of these states, of course, are not industrially deprived. Instead, they are disturbed at having lost industry to other states.

If every state eventually permits such bonds, their use as an incentive might be diminished. The real loser, however, would be the tax collector.

Since the industrial bonds cannot be taxed by the federal government, the Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Service are becoming more and more concerned.

Uncle Sam allows the back door to stand wide open while he carefully guards the front, partment and the Internal Revenue Service are becoming more and more concerned.

"Uncle Sam allows the back door to stand wide open while he carefully guards the front," said Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a member of the House Banking and Currency subcommittee.

Reuss' statements were made to a meeting of the American Bankers Association, the chief opponent of this type of financing. And the ABA right now is encouraging legislation to end some of the advantages.

Huge Nude Painting Won't Come Down

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Spectators stare and county engineers attack her with fire hoses, but the 30-foot-high nude pink lady won't come down.

The painting of a voluptuous woman was discovered last weekend on stone 100 feet above a tunnel entrance four miles north of Malibu Beach.

She drew raves from the public but the road commissioner said she would be a hazard to drivers.

If paint remover or sandblasting fail, officials said, the lady will be given a modest coat of paint.

Head Off Crime With Help Of Computers?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Using such things as the weather, how many street lights are broken and whether the corner saloons are open—plus reliance on a smart cop's instinct—that city's policemen some day may use computers to predict where and when a crime will happen.

It's part of Crime Prediction Operations Research, a $78,000 experiment to see if there's any way to head off crime or help solve it more quickly by predicting it.

Capt. James C. Herron, Dr. Marvin Wolfgang, a University of Pennsylvania criminologist, and Joe N. Bloom, technical director of the Systems Science Division at the Franklin Institute, are trying to decide what factors will be important in predicting crime. This is the first step for devising a formula—the model in computer parlance—that will go into a computer at police headquarters to turn out daily crime forecasts.

Bloom, a lanky engineer who seems to speak as rapidly as a computer printing figures, said:

"We know crimes happen every night, when they happen, where they happen. We can also get records of other things that may be a factor in the neighborhoods, such as the weather, unemployment, was there a big payroll, school vacations and how many street lights are out."

Bloom says these are among statistical indicators and may help give a fair indication of when crime might happen.

"But lots of things aren't covered in the statistical indicators," he said. "Like tension in the neighborhood and antagonisms."

These are things, he added, smart policemen assess every day. The team is figuring out now to include these judgment factors in the formula.

"We've got to get judgment into it," he said.

GOP Movie To Cutting Room Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much of the latest Republican campaign movie is apparently going to wind up in the same place as the last one — on the cutting room floor.

Two years ago, a group called Mothers for a Moral America, an offshoot of the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, withdrew at the last moment a campaign film called "Choice" which featured topless bathing suits, pornography and street violence.

This year, the Republican Congressional Committee hired a New York film studio, Newsprint Inc., to produce a movie for nationwide viewing, and it came up with a 30-minute feature called "What's Going On Here?"

Like "Choice," it included pictures of crime and violence, and of the Viet Nam war, interspersed with statements by President Johnson and other administration officials, plus a narration by actor Raymond Massey.

But the premiere showing last week, for selected high GOP officials, drew few favorable reviews, and the congressional committee has been busy since trying to salvage as much of its $45,000 investment as possible.

Although the film is still scheduled to be shown Sunday on the National Broadcasting Co. television network, it has been cut sharply, with a talk by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon added to fill out the half hour. NBC gave Republicans and Democrats a half hour of free time on Sunday.

GOP officials said Thursday night they were reassessing parts of the film involving the President in view of the chief executive's announcement of his impending surgery.

The controversy over the film erupted Tuesday when Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey, noting two newspaper stories about it, let loose a blast that the Republicans planned to use "highly distorted and misleading material." He said the film was a 1966 version of "Choice."

It became known that a number of leading Republicans wanted the film dropped, including Rep. Melvin R. Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference; National Chairman Ray C. Liss; and Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chair-

Beauty Contests A Mainstay Of TV Programs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauty contests — or "pageants," as they are now called — are a staple of television entertainment.

Currently there are six or seven which annually are broadcast as network specials and, more often than not, wind up at the top of the ratings lists.

Oldest and most popular is, of course, the September "Miss America Pageant," whose enormous ratings undoubtedly stimulated the others. There is also the "Miss Universe" contest and its preliminary, "Miss U.S.A."

All feature good-looking girls of college age.

Then there are the beauty pageants of the younger set — "America's Junior Miss" and "Miss Teen-age America."

Last April there was also something called "Miss Teen-age International," but it was a minor fiasco and may not become a TV institution like the others.

Sometimes adult viewers wonder if all the pressures, lime-light and, for most, final disappointment, are good for them.

Allen Ludden who has served as host on the "Miss Teen-age America Pageant" for the past five years and is the father of two teen-age daughters does not believe they are harmful.

"I think that it could be a horrendous experience for some girls," he conceded. "But for those girls who get to the finals, I am certain that it is, as they keep saying, a beautiful, exciting thing they remember all their lives."

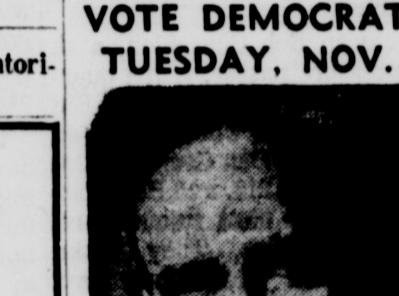

Ludden said that "happily, neither of my own girls is interested in that sort of thing," but he insists that any girl who reaches the finale is enjoying it.

Ludden said that he was "not especially defending the principle, but I am defending the magic of the pageant."

"From their arrival for the finals until they leave, they are treated with great respect and there has never been any vulgarity."

The finals, live, will be broadcast Saturday night on CBS.

Missouri Still Looking For A Leader For Game

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 4.—(Special) — Ever since Coach Dan Devine came to Tigerland eight years ago, most Missouri-Colorado football clashes have been resolved by a take-charge quarterback.

The Buffs have found themselves one, and Missouri is still looking for a leader. Maybe that's why Dandy Dan fears another Danny-boy — Kelly of Colorado — as both clubs approach their Big Eight rendezvous here in Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon.

Crammed into the Tiger's sunken arena for this 55th Homecoming spectacle will be 57,000 onlookers — a sellout crowd and second largest in the stadium's history. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Kelly, a sprint-out sprite who runs nimbly behind the blocks of fullback Wilmer Cooks, has been the sparkplug in Colorado's resurgent attack. Taking over for veteran Bernie McCall at mid-season, the 5-10 junior from Aurora, Colo., led the Buffs to wins over Iowa State and Oklahoma, and a near-miss 21-19 loss to Nebraska's unbeaten league-leaders.

In just three games, the Herd's newest hero has jumped to No. 7 among conference rushers, averaging 4.1 yards a crack. Two other teammates are just above him — fleet William Harris in the No. 4 slot with a 5½-yard average, and Cooks No. 6 with a 3.8 yard figure.

"They just seem to move the ball," commented Devine this week in unconcealed envy. "I was sorry to read that Eddy (Crowder) gave them a night off. I was hoping they'd work on some new plays — that's the only place they seem to get in trouble."

Winner over Oklahoma, 24-21, in a poised effort last Saturday, Crowder's quick- and - strong Buffaloes took over rushing offense leadership in the conference at 224.7 yards a game — and total offense, too, at 326.9 yards per game.

Agile huskies up front make the Buffaloes roll. Scout Bob Frala calls their line take-off "super — they all move as one." Defensively, Sam Harris, an all- America prospect at end — and linebacker Dick Anderson are most impressive.

Off Mizzou, by contrast, must re-stack its offensive line this week after losing sophomore starters Bob Parker and Jim Anderson with disabling injuries in the Nebraska game. Parker, a guard, dislocated his elbow, while Anderson — rangy, blond tackle — damaged a knee. Devine also was concerned with the early-week gimpiness of fullback Barry Lischner, re-activated last week after being disabled since the Illinois game with a bad knee. Lischner carried three times against Nebraska.

Jim Willsey, lettered junior, is a possible starter for Parker — while Roger Short moves up for Anderson. At fullback, Bob Powell will start if the rugged Lischner is again grounded.

Bruised egos have to heal, too — after that 35-0 thrashing by Nebraska, M.U.'s worst whipping since 1958. Oklahoma, for instance, didn't recover sufficiently from a similar defeat by Notre Dame to handle the Buffaloes in their next start.

Coach Devine switched the quarterback burden to sophomore Dan Sharp this week, giving the rookie his first starting call over Gary Kombrink. Curiously, both Sharp — offered a pro baseball bonus fresh out of high school — and his Buff counterpart, Kelly, are outstanding baseball players. Sharp is a pitcher, while Kelly was an all-Big Eight shortstop last spring.

Historically, as mentioned, quarterbacks have grabbed the headlines in this rivalry since Devine joined the league in 1958.

That year, Tiger Phil Snowden — playing with a fibre-glass girdle to protect cracked vertebrae — led Mizzou to three touchdowns in less than four minutes to reverse a 9-0 Colorado advantage in a game won by the Tigers, 33-9.

In 1959 and 1961, Gale Weidner whipped home the passes that gave Colorado hairbreadth 21-20 and 7-6 decisions at Boulder. From 1963 through 1965, Missouri's Gary Lane supplied the individual heroics each time — building a Bengal victory string to 21, Colorado 6, Tied 3.

Doubt Kansas Can Stop Huskers Now

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Nebraska's brawny and talented Huskers are in high gear, and headed for a fourth straight title in their growing Big Eight football dynasty. It's highly doubtful Kansas can stop them here Saturday.

A record Kansas crowd of about 47,000 is expected for the 54th Jayhawk Homecoming game. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. cst. The unbeaten Nebraska club, ranked No. 6 nationally, looked unbeatable in crushing Missouri 35-0 last week in a televised mismatch viewed by Sugar and Ora-

Colorado Favored Over M. U.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Potential Colorado, surging toward the runner-up spot in Big Eight football with Dan Kelly taking charge at quarterback, is favored over an injury-weakened Missouri team here Saturday.

A sellout crowd of 57,000, second largest in history here, is expected for Mizzou's 55th homecoming game. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. cst.

Colorado's last victory in Columbia was in 1930. Fifteen Colorado teams have gone to Columbia since then, harvesting only a pair of ties.

This is the best Colorado team since the 1961 league champions; however, and Eddie Crowder's fourth club seems headed for at least a share of the No. 2 position in the league and a possible bowl bid.

Since the swift, tricky little Kelly took over at quarterback, Colorado has beaten Iowa State 41-21, lost to Nebraska 21-19 in the last 53 seconds and whipped Oklahoma 24-21. Kelly's total offense figures are 242-214-17 in that span, most of it on sweeps.

Kelly is not the whole show, by any means. Halfback William "Don't Call Me Willie" Harris has rushed for 84-68-127 and blocked well. Fullback Wilmer Cooks rushed 50-57-76 and blocked viciously. The blocking of guards John Beard and Kirk Tracy has been tremendous.

The defense is tough, led by end Sam Harris and safety Hale Irwin.

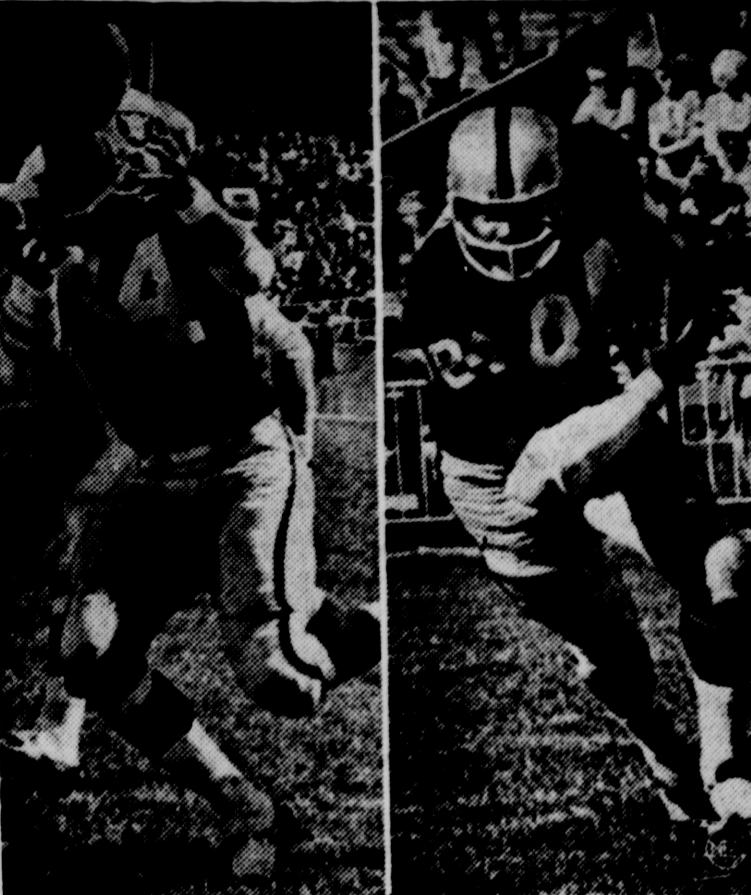

Colorado is 3-2 in the league, with another last-minute 11-10 loss at Oklahoma State before Kelly took over. Missouri is 2-1 in the Big Eight and 4-2-1 for all games, but is coming off a 35-0 loss at Nebraska.

Missouri coach Dan Devine must patch a battered offensive line. If he is successful and new starting quarterback Dan Sharp has a good day, the Tigers could be dangerous — providing the defense stages a comeback.

Sharp led the Tigers back from a 10-0 deficit to a 10-10 tie with Iowa State. He is good at getting the ball to split end Chuck Weber.

Pettis County Post No. 18 American Legion will hold regular meeting 7:30 p.m. (CST) Monday, October 17. The Auxiliary will meet also.

WORK OF ART—Art Powell, that is. The split end of the Oakland Raiders demonstrates first the technique of grabbing the ball from a defender and then advancing it.

Chiefs Still In Race

Football Fever Is Running High In KC

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, in their fourth season in this city, have never been in the title picture this late in the year and football fever was never higher than for Sunday's showdown with San Diego for the AFL western division lead.

An overflow crowd of at least 43,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. CST, kickoff. In view of the city's fans, this is the most important professional sports contest ever held here.

The Chiefs lead in the west with a 6-2 record against San Diego's 5-2-1. The winner will have the inside track for the championship.

A Kansas City victory would make it mathematically possible for the Chiefs to have the crown wrapped up going into the final game at San Diego Dec. 18. The intervening schedule favors neither team, at least on paper.

Coach Hank Stram's Chiefs have beaten the Chargers twice and tied them once in their last three regular season meetings, but none of those games came in a pressure situation similar to this one.

This is what bothers Kansas City fans—they have never seen their club win a big pressure game. It's also true this club has more weapons, more talent to put the pressure on opposing defenses than any previous Stram club. Its scoring average of 35.6 is second best in AFL history.

Gogolak's Record Is Being Threatened

NEW YORK (AP) — It has been only one year since Charley Gogolak ended his college football career and became a pro, but already his collegiate kicking record is being threatened.

Creeping up on Gogolak's 81 points by kicking is Jan Stenerud, another soccer-style booter who is a senior at Montana State.

The Norwegian-born Stenerud has connected on 43 of 46 extra point attempts and 9 of 19 field goal tries for 70 points, putting him 13th in scoring in the college division. He has two games remaining.

Fenton is bound to be lacking in sharpness, however, as he has played in only one game. He says he's throwing the ball better than ever.

Don Shanklin, a swift and tough 171-pounder, is the club's chief running threat with 1,124 yards in all categories, 636 of it rushing. The Jayhawks stand 24-1 for the year.

Carl Garrett, Highlands' sophomore speedster, holds the individual scoring lead with 122 points.

Following the football game, a dance was held at the high school.

In flanker Otis Taylor, they have a great long-ball threat for the first time in club history. He leads the AFL in pass receiving catch at 23.7. San Diego, as always, has Lance Alworth, but Taylor is challenging his supremacy.

Bert Coan and Mike Garrett, the Chiefs' 1-2 running backs, are explosive and second to none in the AFL this fall.

No fullback blocks and catches passes better than Kansas City's Curtis McClinton. Quarterback Len Dawson ranks second only to ex-Kansas star John Hadl of San Diego in the AFL passing ratings.

San Diego's defense was supposed to be much weaker with the loss of tackle Ernie Ladd, and Earl Faison and linebacker Chuck Allen, but the Chargers have yielded only 123 points, by far the best in the AFL.

Only the San Diego rushing game is below expectations, and Keith Lincoln and Gene Foster indicated last week this may not last long.

The Chargers have won the western title five times, losing only in 1962 when they were wrecked by injuries. Sid Gillman's club is expected to put forth a great effort to remain King of the Hill.

Knob Noster Panthers Win Homecoming Tilt

The Knob Noster Panthers won their homecoming football game over the Clinton Cardinals last Friday, 33-12.

Sheila Wallace, daughter of T-Sgt. and Mrs. Rolla L. Wallace, Whiteman AFB, a junior in the Knob Noster High School, was crowned queen at half time ceremonies by Scott Saults, student council president. Scott Taveau and Gary Kirk, co-captains of the football team, presented the queen's bouquet. Her escort was Ronnie Bacon, a junior.

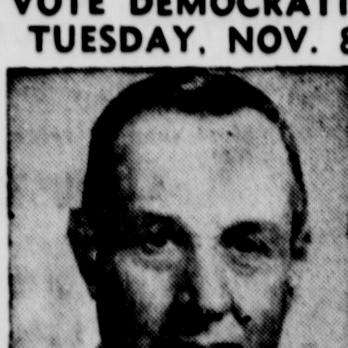

Miss Wallace's attendants were Kathy Poess and escort, Jerry Foley, seniors; Pat Gassett and escort, Jerry Harvey, sophomores; Teresa Zink and escort, Bill Parris, freshmen; and Chris Parris and escort, Jimmy Sellers, football.

Also at half time, the school band performed and Marcell Clements performed a fireman routine.

Carl Garrett, Highlands' sophomore speedster, holds the individual scoring lead with 122 points.

Following the football game, a dance was held at the high school.

Shoots Hole-In-One

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Frank Stobie, a 22-year-old professional, shot a hole-in-one Friday in the second round of the 72-hole golf tournament at Kensington course.

He got the ace at the 168-yard 11th hole.

There is a $2,240 purse for holes in one. Stobie, who had a 13-over-par 85 in the first round Thursday, will get it all if no one else matches his ace.

Gridster Still Is In Critical Condition Today

HOUSTON (AP) — Claude Smith, University of Arkansas football player who underwent emergency brain surgery last Sunday, remained unconscious and in critical condition today but his wife said she believed he was improving.

"I'm encouraged," said Mrs. Charlene Smith, "He's starting to move his arms and eyebrows. I think he is going to pull out of it."

Smith, a defensive tackle, collapsed in the dressing room at College Station Saturday night after the Texas A&M-Arkansas game.

A cranial blood clot had kept him out of action last season. In last weekend's operation doctors at Methodist Hospital again removed such a clot.

"I was apprehensive but I let him return to football," Mrs. Smith said. "He wanted to play. Football is in his blood. The doctors gave their approval."

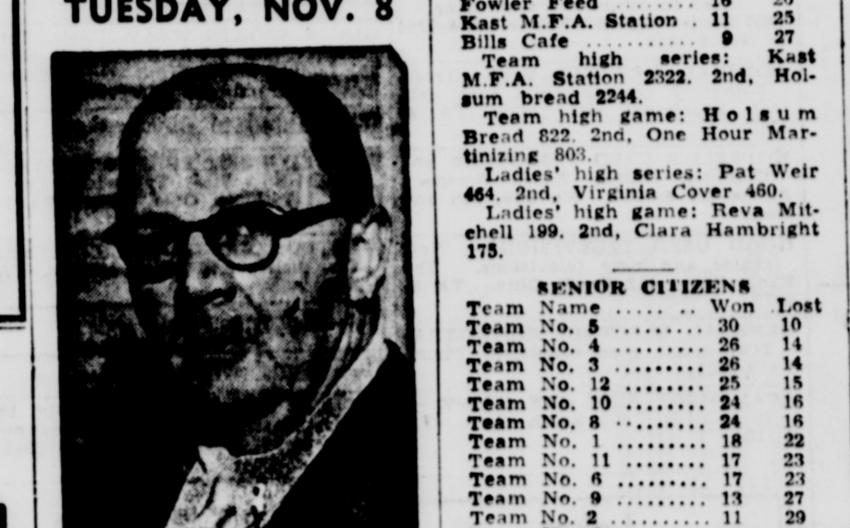

She said doctors who performed the first operation told her clot in the same spot was highly improbable.

Against Texas A&M, he participated in no more than 10 plays. Arkansas coaches said game films show no blow on the head that could have caused the injury.

Both Hit Home Runs

CARACAS (AP) — Zoilo Versalles of the Minnesota Twins and George Scott of the Boston Red Sox hit bases-empty home runs Thursday night as Aragua defeated Magallanes 5-2 in a Venezuelan Winter League baseball game.

BOOT CARE TIP

By nature leather is soft, pliable and tough. Its porous construction enables it to "breathe" and thus dissipate foot perspiration. The tanning process provides lubricating fats that keep the leather flexible. Without adequate lubrication, even the finest leathers become brittle. Work shoes and boots must be cleaned and treated regularly to give you maximum wear and comfort.

PET TURKEY

This turkey has escaped the Thanksgiving dinner table by making friends with Mrs. Shirley Wiseman, an employee of the Missouri Farmers Association poultry plant at Shelbia. The turkey evidently likes the idea of being a pet and can be led around like a dog. White turkeys have replaced the bronze birds in popularity in most sections of Missouri. The bird in the picture is a Nicholas White.

NEW Beltone BRAVO

HEARING POWER WHERE IT HELPS MOST,
SHOWS LEAST... ALL-IN-THE-EAR!

Tiny, just over 1/10 ounce size, custom fitting, high performance and long 110-hour battery life characterize the new "Bravo" in-the-ear hearing aid recently introduced by Beltone Electronics Corporation. A marvel of miniaturization, the complete unit (in girl's ear) fits within a custom earmold, its outer face completely flush with the ear opening. The new instrument was designed for the full range of mild hearing losses. Its size and unique earmold mounting concept . . . on which Beltone has a patent pending . . . enables it to be custom fitted to the wearers' ear.

"TIN CANS," a nickname usually reserved for Navy destroyers, became a reality in England when Dennis Mansfield created this unusual seacraft out of British-made trash cans. Mansfield, a special products division manager for an American outboard motor company, built the craft to demonstrate the ruggedness and versatility of the engine.

Health Bills Signed

Federal Roles Widened By New Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Praising Congress while he worked, President Johnson signed into law Thursday a series of acts widening federal roles in health and education, in reshaping cities, in pollution control and in protection of consumers and children.

The President made the signing of eight administration-sponsored bills his foremost business on his first day back at his desk after a 17-day tour of the Far East, during which the 89th Congress concluded its two-year course.

Johnson sought to establish a direct link between the new laws and the national elections only five days away. But his praise for the measures and the lawmakers who passed them made clear his hopes that the voters would send these legislators, or like-minded men, to the new 90th Congress to continue shaping what he calls the Great Society.

The President did take note of the coming elections but consoled himself with this generalized observation:

"I have always felt that if we did what is best for America, we'd do what is best for ourselves."

As they stand, the new laws commit some $14-plus billion for expenditure over the next few years, but some of the programs will require billions more if Congress decides to go ahead with their implementation.

The bulk of the money voted — $9 billion over three years — is for wide-ranging aid-to-education programs from the elementary level right on through college.

Next biggest chunk of funds — $3.7 billion through fiscal 1971 — will be for a greatly increased federal role in efforts to restore the purity of water in the nation's major streams and lakes.

Using a new and flexible approach, the health legislation commits $154 million for grants to local and state public health projects over the next two years. The departure is that instead of allotting funds to specific projects, the federal government will allow the state and local units to use the grants in areas of greatest need.

Educational Tour Planned By Chamber

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, is sponsoring an education tour to Warrensburg on Nov. 18, according to Gary N. Cooper, executive-manager of the Sedalia Chamber.

This tour is a good-will gesture on the part of the Chamber and the College, at which time approximately two hours will be spent viewing the new buildings and facilities on the campus.

Bus transportation will be furnished by the College, the bus to leave Bothwell Hotel at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 18, and the College will be host for lunch served on the campus.

Chamber members interested in making the tour are asked to notify the Chamber office as soon as possible as bus space is limited.

382,000 Troops By Yearend

American Military Strength Surges Toward Prediction

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American military strength in South Viet Nam surged toward the predicted yearend total of about 382,000 as the U.S. command announced Thursday an increase of 9,000 troops last week, almost double that of the previous week.

The new troops, additions to units already in the country, put total American strength in Viet Nam at 345,000, not counting about 50,000 men offshore in vessels of the 7th Fleet. Earlier this week, Pentagon sources had predicted a stepup in the flow of American troops to Viet Nam in the next few weeks.

North Viet Nam took another pounding Wednesday from American attack bombers as clearing weather permitted 165 missions, 10 short of the daily record of 175 flown on Oct. 14. Pilots said they spotted three Communist MIG fighters northwest of Hanoi, but that none came closer than three miles and there was no exchange of fire.

No large-scale ground fighting was reported, but units of the U.S. 196th Light Brigade, which arrived here last Aug. 14, reported killing 13 Viet Cong who were believed to have been using antiaircraft guns.

Keynote speaker for the Nov. 10 meeting, which gets underway at 7:30 p.m. at the Old Missouri Homestead, is John Poelker, St. Louis city comptroller and an authority on municipal finance.

Officials from cities in Ray, Lafayette, Johnson, Henry, Carroll, Saline, Pettis and Benton Counties have been invited to attend the meeting. Over 50 mayors, councilmen and other city officials are expected to attend.

The entire program is sponsored by the Missouri Municipal League, and several staff members from the league will be here to answer questions. The league, a voluntary organization, is represented in 320 cities, towns and villages in Missouri.

According to Mayor Walker, he feels city officials should meet more often to discuss problems common to most communities. Problems which will come under discussion will be those of particular interest in this area, Walker said.

Besides finance, Poelker is expected to discuss revenue and taxation problems commonly found in Missouri. Some possible solutions may be forwarded.

Jay T. Bell, executive director of the Missouri Municipal League, will discuss 1966-67 state-wide Municipal policy and the 1967 municipal legislative program. A question and answer session will follow the two main speakers.

Surgery For The President Within Next 15 To 18 Days

Repair Incision And Remove Throat Polyp

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will undergo surgery within the next 15 to 18 days.

Johnson, who personally announced the forthcoming operation to newsmen summoned to the Cabinet Room, described it as "repair a defect at the site of the incision made during the gall bladder operation a year ago."

A small polyp will be removed from his throat at the same time.

With the announcement, Johnson ended all speculation that he was planning a cross-country campaign swing prior to next Tuesday's elections to plug for the election of Democrats all the way down the line.

Democratic politicians in more than a dozen states from Massachusetts to California have reported they expected Johnson for political speeches prior to the elections.

But heeding recommendations of his doctors, Johnson plans to get in as much rest as possible prior to the operation instead of taking to the political hustings.

He will begin resting up at the LBJ Ranch in Texas sometime Friday.

But he told newsmen that he plans a busy day in his office, signing bills and getting in other paper work before leaving for the ranch.

Later, press secretary Bill D. Moyers announced that the President will hold a news conference at 10 a.m. EST in the White House East Room. It will be open for live television coverage.

Johnson, reading from a prepared statement, said that about six months ago a small bulge began to appear in the region of the scar from last year's operation on the right side of his abdomen. Although it would disappear from time to time, he said, "I experienced a continuing soreness and a drawing sensation. The protrusion has enlarged recently and the soreness has recurred, and the doctors have recommended surgery."

In a delayed report, a U.S. spokesman said a North Vietnamese gun battery on shore exchanged fire with the American destroyers Mansfield and Hanson patrolling in the Gulf of Tonkin outside the three-mile territorial limit on the morning of Oct. 25. The spokesman said there were three exchanges of fire but neither destroyer was damaged. The Communists were believed to have been using antiaircraft guns.

On the economic front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government suffered a setback as economists reported a 13 percent increase in the average cost of 28 basic commodities in the past two weeks in Saigon. The best grades of rice, the staple food, now cost 16 per cent more than a month ago. Pork went up 53 per cent and cabbage 64 per cent. Experts attributed the increase to military operations in farm areas, speculation, seasonal floods in the Mekong delta rice bowl, and political fighting.

Totals for the year to Nov. 1 show 649 accidents and 176 injuries, compared to 588 accidents and 205 injuries for the same period last year. Fatalities have been cut in half, however, with two recorded so far this year, compared to four last year.

Accusation Is Made By UN Command

Formal Charge Against Koreans Who Made Attacks

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command is formally accusing North Koreans Friday of killing six American and three South Korean soldiers in two unprovoked attacks that marred President Johnson's visit to South Korea.

The Military Armistice Commission was summoned to an emergency meeting at Panmunjom, in the border demilitarized zone, to air charges about the attacks and other incidents over the last two weeks, regarded here as the gravest since a truce ended the Korean War in 1953.

Chances of agreement on any phase of the trouble are remote.

Panmunjom, the truce center where opposing delegations have exchanged thousands of charges, is about six miles west of the rocky knoll where Communist ambushers wiped out an eight-man patrol of the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division early Wednesday.

The hero of the patrol's defensive fight — 800 yards south of the demilitarized zone — was identified as Pvt. Ernest D. Reynolds, 20, of Kansas City, Mo. The division commander, Maj. Gen. George Pickett Jr., is recommending him for a medal for bravery.

Though on outpost duty 60 feet from the rest of the patrol, Reynolds chose to open up with his rifle rather than try to slip away in the night. He was killed along with five other Americans.

Deadlines For Mailing Announced

Sedalia Postmaster Maurice Hogan Thursday announced deadlines for overseas mailing to servicemen and all employees overseas who receive their mail through New York, San Francisco or Seattle A.P.O.s, for delivery by Christmas.

The guaranteed deadline for surface parcels is Nov. 10. The proper weight for parcels is not to exceed 70 pounds and 100 inches length and girth combined.

Parcels weighing not more than five pounds and of 60 inches length and girth combined, will be airlifted to servicemen in Viet Nam from San Francisco even if prepaid at surface rate.

This deadline is also Nov. 10 and insures the delivery of packages to servicemen on time.

Trick or Treat for UNICEF

How old must one be to share in the honors of the Nobel Peace Prize? Just old enough and tall enough, it would seem, to be able to reach for a doorbell and ring it on Halloween.

Provided, of course, it is under the auspices of the United Nations Children's Fund, which was granted the award just a year ago for saving children's lives ever since its founding on December 11, 1946.

In Sedalia and in over 13,000 other communities from coast to coast millions of American boys and girls are ready to celebrate UNICEF's twentieth anniversary by showing greater enthusiasm than ever before in collecting Halloween "treats" of pennies, nickels and dimes. In months to come, these will be transformed into vital supplies, equipment, medicines and vaccines for more than 100 underdeveloped countries around the world.

Locally sponsored by the Sedalia-Pettis County Ministers' Assn., the Trick or Treat for UNICEF program begins Sunday evening.

For the youngsters it is a fine opportunity to combine their traditional fun with a constructive, rewarding activity all their own — "the world's greatest effort by children to help children."

For the parents, the venture has reassuring aspects of safety and planning since the participants can remain in small groups, and be escorted and supervised.

Policemen, firemen and other civic authorities appreciate the fact that wherever a well organized UNICEF program prevails, they can worry less about vandalism and senseless pranks.

Last but not least, for ministers, priests and rabbis, the motto "Share rather than Scare" takes Halloween away from some of its least desirable connotations — when young people devote their energy and leisure time to helping others, it can well be said they are taking part in a constructive, benevolent endeavor.

Some idea of what boys and girls will accomplish, with our community's generous cooperation, may be found in the fact that every day UNICEF's jeeps, truck and other vehicles travel roughly the distance of 30 times around the world. Placed end on end, the midwife kits shipped by UNICEF would form a pile four times as high as Mount Everest. If they held hands at the Equator, the children and mothers helped by UNICEF each year would circle the world. The dried milk shipped by UNICEF would fill the United Nations building more than 25 times.

The organizers of the Sedalia Trick or Treat for UNICEF program, most certainly deserve that their selfless and efficient efforts should meet with unqualified success.

LIBJ and Kremlin

One of the chief campaigns of the Liberty lobby recently has been to charge that President Johnson doesn't want to win the war in Viet Nam.

"Liberty Lowdown," described as "a confidential Washington report supplied only to Liberty Lobby pledgers," recently charged that the United States was in "secret agreement" with the Kremlin.

"It must be interjected that there is not the slightest equivocation on that point," stated Liberty Lowdown. "Our government does not want to win; and it is this fact that makes futile and foolish all concepts that any conservatives might have about the right way to win the war. The fact which cannot be dismissed is that the real enemy of the American people is in Washington D.C., nowhere else."

"Liberty lobby has in its possession a report on the existence of a secret agreement between the Washington regime and the Kremlin which has never been ratified by the Senate — and which indeed is not even known to the vast majority of officials in Washington, but which explains perfectly the reason why we cannot win."

"Part of this deal is that the United States shall not allow Chiang Kai-Shek to leave his island, and that is why the regime refuses to use his troops in Viet Nam."

NOTE 1 — This column can report that actually the United States has approached Chiang Kai-Shek for the use of Chinese Nationalist troops in Viet Nam but was turned down. This was why President Johnson during his trip through the Far East studiously avoided stopping in Taipei to pay his respects to Chiang Kai-Shek.

NOTE 2 — When this column reported that the Senate testimony of Curtis Dall, chairman of the Liberty lobby and former son-in-law of President Roosevelt, was anti-Semitic, Dall sued us for $2 million but lost out in the lower courts and all the way up to the Supreme Court.

The second law passed by the first Congress in 1789 set a 5-to-15 per cent tariff on more than 80 imports.

Preparing for Monday's Take Off

Pumpkinville

The little village of Pumpkinville
Was nestled right at the foot of a hill.
The trees were many and very tall.
The houses were few, and very small.
And there was a sort o' mystic air
Around the village everywhere.
It had no tourists—save now and then—
In 50 years there were only ten.
There were no children, the people were old
And all of them just the color of gold,
With an eerie kind of a light within.

And they wore such funny loose white clothes.
And never anywhere were they seen
Except on the night called Halloween—
But they would go out in the world that night
And give folks they met a terrible fright.
Like the witches with brooms and pointed hats
And ghosts and goblins and bats and black cats,
But the people of Pumpkinville were kids that went out
On Halloween to wander about
And they did some pranks that they shouldn't have done

Because they thought doing pranks was fun.
They went to a field where pumpkins were grown
By a poor old man who lived all alone
And pumpkins big and yellow gold
He always took to the market and sold
That night all of these girls and boys

Got away with his pumpkins without any noise
And made jack-O'-lanterns for Halloween night
With grinning faces that were really a sight
Then a boy, named Jack, put one on his head.
So all the kids did the same thing, 'tis said.
But when they tried to get them off that night

They found the pumpkins were stuck on tight.
They pulled and they tugged and felt so bad
When they found they were all the heads they had;
Nobody wanted such creatures about
And the sheriff chased them every one out,
So they settled at the foot of a hill

And folks named the village Pumpkinville;
To their own town they never went back
All because of a boy named Jack —
"We'll take the old man's pumpkin," Jack said —
Then he put a grinning pumpkin over his head,
The rest followed — but he was to blame

That's how Jack-O'-lantern got its name.
This story is as true as the witch riding her broom
And the ghosts and the goblins that come out of the gloom.

For all the weird people on this Hallowed Eve
Aren't real ghosts and goblins, they're just make-believe.

Yet, those who do mean things just for a thrill
Will always live in a "Pumpkinville"

For a person like that is very ill-bred
And deserves to be called a pumpkinhead.

Thanksgiving Viet Nam: Might Unnerve Pilgrims

Out here, in the velvety jungles of Viet Nam, they call it Thanksgiving.

It comes in the fall, after the rainy season, when the rice crop is in and the Viet Cong are out. Since I happened to be visiting in the neighborhood with George Gaspard, the U.S. Agency for International Development representative in Quang Duc Province, Chief Nchay had us to join the groaning board and share a buffalo brisket with him.

It is a tale of primitive people doing in a water buffalo with the thrust of a lance and the flash of a cleaver and grinding out wild uninhabited dances among unseen, unsmiling evil spirits.

2 Smothers Return To TV Screen

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Can two talented, fresh-faced young men find success in television? The Smothers Brothers didn't the first time around, but in keeping with the American tradition of fair play, they'll get another chance.

It could have happened next January. Tom and Dick were sought for an hour-long variety show first by ABC and then by NBC, which wanted them to sub for the ailing Garry Moore show.

That would have placed them opposite the seemingly unconquerable "Bonanza." To quote Red Skelton: "I wouldn't give that spot to a leopard." But "Bonanza" held no terror for the Brothers Smothers.

"Don't you think Phil Silvers was worried when he was placed opposite Mr. Television?" reasons Dick, the serious brother. "Yet it wasn't long before Sgt. Bilko knocked Milton Berle off the air."

"We would have liked the spot opposite 'Bonanza.' A show that has been on the air for eight years is due for a fall."

But the Smothers turned down the offers to sub midseason for Garry Moore or "Jericho." Their reasons?

"I'm just too beat," says Tom, the screwball brother. "I've been having a divorce and an ulcer, and I still haven't recovered from the last series. I don't want to go into another series tired. Everything has to be right, because we wouldn't get a third chance."

"The Smothers Brothers Show," which faded from CBS last season, was a traumatic experience for both. They claim they were caught in the middle of various masterminds who limited them to a rigid, unoriginal formula.

But next time, both vowed, they'll retain more control. They are looking forward to the variety show, which probably will start next September.

"We'll be able to work with guest stars, do sketches and all kinds of things," said Dick. "It's what we need to get away from the routine of talking to each other, the same old sh-tick."

The brothers can be seen on Jack Benny's special Dec. 1 and "Alice Through the Looking Glass" Nov. 6, both on NBC.

Outhouse Comes Early To Center Square

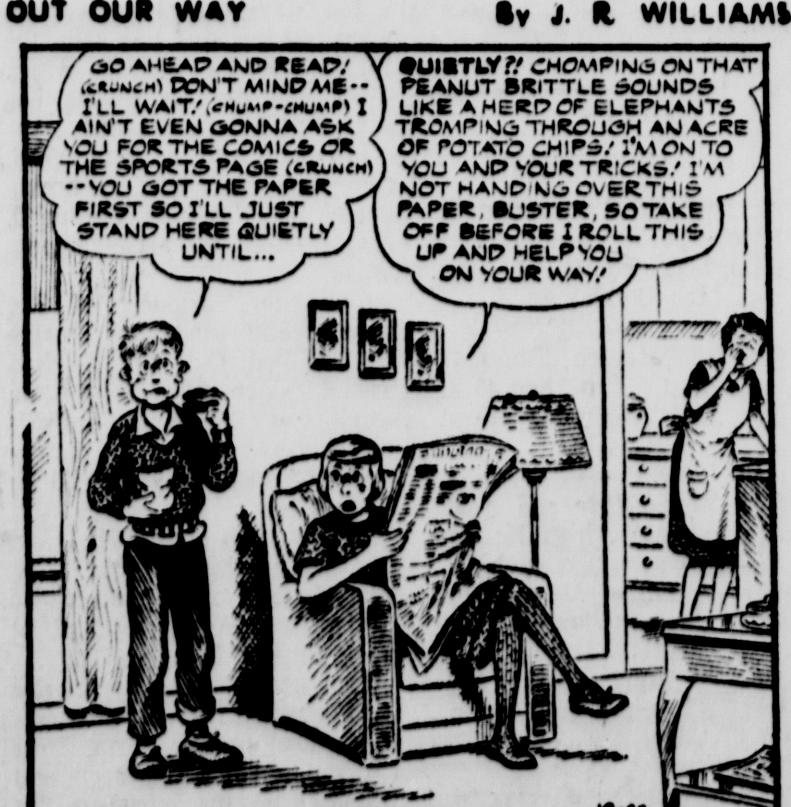

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) — Halloween pranks started early when teen-agers decorated Center Square with an outhouse Thursday night.

Police had to light the structure with a red flare to prevent motorists from hitting it until the wooden building could be removed.

About 500 teen-agers gathered at the square to watch the performance and cars were backed up bumper to bumper for several blocks in all directions.

Police were looking for the outhouse's owner.

Individual Skills Are Put On Display On Special Day

CHAIR CANING is something of interest to all ages, and certainly there could be no younger interested spectator than the one at the right of the picture, probably wondering what the woman is doing with that "string", which he could find a use for, too. The caning demonstration was by the Thursday Club.

MRS. CHARLES HOSTETTLER, left, demonstrates how to make the tinkle Christmas bells, while at the right, Mrs. Raymond Wasson, president of the Pettis County Extension Club Council, holds up an ornament made with the bells and Christmas tree beads.

MRS. WALTER KRAFT, Hughesville, second from left, explains the steps used in making ceramics from the pouring of liquid clay into the molds to firing in the kiln.

MRS. FRED STALEY, extreme right, tells how she makes the vegetables and fruits from straw and styrofoam.

Creativeness was expressed in many ways at the Pettis County Extension Clubs Achievement Day held Friday, Oct. 21, as women of the various clubs demonstrated "How-to-do-it" skills, every one of which was fascinating, with interesting little stories behind some of them.

On one of the tables was exquisite knitted lace articles, the work of Mrs. Vincent Fry of Brick Extension Club, which was practically a United Nations display, for she had doilies she had knitted from patterns of many countries. Each country, she explained, has its own distinct pattern type which distinguishes it from other countries.

"Now this," she said, displaying a lovely large doily, "is a German pattern." And she went on to say that the pattern instructions were in German and she bought a German dictionary in order to read the instructions. For the Mexico pattern she had to have a Spanish dictionary, for the instructions were written in Spanish. There was a French pattern doily, too, and an Australian pattern. She had doilies of patterns from several other countries, as well as table covers, one 54 by 72, which was a thing of real beauty. She writes to people all over the world for patterns and buys linen thread from England.

Knitting is a real art, and Mrs. John Jones, LaMonte, had on display many lovely knitted garments, everything including a full length coat, and there are stories back of her knitting, too. When her daughter saw a sweater with a very different type pattern in a magazine she wanted her mother to send for it, but her mother thought a dollar was a little too much for a pattern. So, what did they do? They sat down and drafted the pattern, counted the stitches in the picture, and the daughter started knitting. The result was perfect as anyone could see, as they looked at it on display, and it was even better on the girl.

Standing smiling at the loom was Mrs. John Zulauf, 32nd and Grand, weaving, something she thoroughly enjoys doing. On the table were a number of items she had woven but the one thing she is proudest of, and well she should be, is the carpet she wove for her new home. Everybody, she believes, should learn to weave, for it is relaxing and fun, as well as productive. Mrs. Zulauf learned to weave a long time ago, but her years as a teacher kept her from doing as much weaving as she wanted, but now that she is retired, she can weave as much as she pleases. She is a member of High Point Extension Club.

Dozens of lovely ceramics were on the table where Mrs. Walter Kraft, Hughesville, demonstrated how they were made. Putting the wide rubber bands around the mold. Mrs. Kraft poured the liquid clay through one of the two holes in the mold where she would leave it until it was about a half inch thick, then pour off the remaining liquid, or, she said, it would become solid.

Then, while the clay was still soft enough she cleaned it, smoothing the ridges left by the mold. At this stage it is called greenware. Then it is ready to put in the kiln where it is fired. It need be fired only once unless it is to be used as a vase to hold water for flowers or a pitcher. Some paint designs on the greenware she said, others after it is fired. Mrs. Kraft has a kiln and ceramics is one of the 4-H projects.

At another table Mrs. Janet Bochne was spray painting plaster plaques which had been made by pouring plaster into molds. The spray painting of blending different colors is very effective. Powder painting was done by sprinkling a bit of different colors where she wanted them and then spraying.

And then there was the oil paintings on display by Mrs. M. E. Tharp, 519 West Broadway, a member of the Georgetown Club. Mrs. Tharp had a wide variety of paintings in all sizes, and framed, but perhaps the most prized is the one of the old covered bridge, and this was always the center of interest for all viewing the paintings.

An assortment of candles for all occasions made by Mrs. James L. Barnes was on display at still another table. The

MRS. JAMES BARNES holds a metal mold one of which she used to mold the beautiful assortment of candles she had on display and told how they were made.

MRS. JOHN JONES, LaMonte, left, who had on display many knitted garments shows other things that might be done with yarn on the homemade frame she is demonstrating with.

MAKING SATIN ROSES was the demonstration given by the Longwood Club and might be put in a vase or used as an ornament or decoration for gifts.

AT THE EXTREME right is Mrs. John Zulauf standing at her loom weaving, something she finds restful and fun as well as productive. She is a member of High Point Club.

THIS IS A GLIMPSE of the "United Nations" table of knitted lace, for here are items made by patterns from many different countries by Mrs. Vincent Fry of Brick Extension Club.

Mrs. O. Campbell of the Thursday Club were demonstrating how to can chairs, the cane put through the holes around the edge and what do you think they were using to hold the cane in the holes — golf tees. They soak the cane about two minutes to keep it taut, make the foundation and then weave.

The liquid embroidery shown by Mrs. Ralph Coen, 1521 Driftwood, looked so real on pillow cases, tea towels and other things one had to feel it to know the difference. It is loveliest, however, on black velvet and can be used on wood effectively, too, or plastic or metal.

Mrs. Fred Staley not only grows onions, carrots, mango peppers and such, she makes them using styrofoam shaped like whatever she wants to make and wraps it in straw, which is soaked to make it pliable. When they are finished, they look good enough to eat. But she has a husband who takes over the jobs she can't do, such as shaping the mango peppers or making the rubber molds. There are other things she could use for the little roots on the onions but since she is on the farm, she said, she uses binder twine.

There were many clever Christmas ideas, too, such as the reversible apron made of two different materials, plain and figured which could be worn several different ways. The entire show was filled with interesting handmade items.

Mrs. Raymond Wasson, president of the Extension Club Council, presided at the afternoon meeting at which time she recognized Miss Opal O'Briant, Pettis County Home Economist,

MRS. GERALD RAGLAND, left, shows that the base of the white Christmas tree made by Mrs. George Rauls, is a newspaper cone, covered with macaroni, sprayed and then put over a tall fruit can which serves as a base.
